Charming Village Cave House with Stunning Views Cortijo Del Cura, Granada Province €120,000 | 2 Bedrooms | 1 Bathroom Discover a rare gem in the tranquil and picturesque village of Cortijo Del Cura – a beautifully finished cave house that perfectly blends traditional Andalusian charm with modern comfort, all set against breathtaking panoramic valley views. Spacious Outdoor Living Step outside to a generous tiled terrace offering both open and shaded seating areas – ideal for savoring your morning coffee or enjoying magical sunset dinners. A large gravelled area expands your outdoor options, featuring a garage, wood shed, and ample space for gardening, extra seating, or recreational use. This home invites you to embrace relaxed indoor-outdoor living in an idyllic setting. Bright, Airy Interiors Unlike many cave homes, this property is cleverly designed around a central light tower, flooding the living spaces with abundant natural light. The warm, inviting atmosphere extends through the living room and kitchen, making it a true sanctuary. The main bedroom enjoys dual-aspect windows, ensuring brightness and comfort, while the spacious second bedroom offers plenty of room for rest or guests. Flexible Living Spaces There's potential to add a third bedroom by converting the current dining room, and a separate office adjacent to the living area can easily transform into a nursery, creative studio, or cozy reading nook – perfect for adapting to your lifestyle needs. Authentic Andalusian Character The kitchen delights with traditional Andalusian tiles, lattice-fronted cabinets, and elegant granite worktops, combining rustic beauty with practical modernity. The bathroom features a stylish walk-in shower framed by glass blocks, enhancing natural light and blending rustic charm with contemporary design. Comfort All Year Round On cooler days, a log-burning stove nestled within a stone-clad chimney breast provides cozy warmth and character. The home is also equipped with a modern solar-powered hot water system, helping keep energy costs low while ensuring everyday comfort. Finished to a high standard throughout, this delightful cave house offers a thoughtful balance of old-world character and modern convenience. Whether you're seeking a peaceful full-time residence, a charming holiday retreat, or a unique rental investment, this property is an exceptional opportunity not to be missed.
