Costa Blanca North, Finestrat

Living at the foot of the mountain with views of the Mediterranean Sea, under the warm sun and surrounded by the nature of the Costa Blanca is more than a dream. Located in the Sierra Cortina Resort complex, between the sea and the mountains and close to Benidorm, this exclusive project offers an ideal environment for relaxation, well-being and the enjoyment of more than 3,000 hours of sunshine a year. In an idyllic natural setting, it is surrounded by an incomparable range of activities, from golf courses and water sports to spas and dining areas.

A collection of luxury villas that reflect tranquillity and comfort in modern single-family homes located just a few kilometres from the beaches and services of Altea, Albir and Benidorm. Each villa is carefully arranged to maximise garden spaces and privacy, with large green areas and a design that allows its owners to enjoy the peace of the surroundings. The plots, in addition to having their own garden, extend to private green areas, further expanding the space for use.

Beyond the serenity of the surroundings, this residential complex also offers access to a wide variety of services: golf courses, yacht clubs, shopping and dining areas, all within reach to enjoy a comfortable and complete life. The twelve exclusive villas in this development have been designed in a minimalist style that combines the nobility and warmth of wood with light tones, predominant on the Costa Blanca. Bright spaces, thanks to large windows that unite the interior with the exterior, allow you to enjoy nature and the views from any angle of the house. The villas, built with materials and finishes of the highest quality, offer luxury in every detail.

One of the most valued aspects of Sierra Cortina is the tranquillity provided by its security centre, with surveillance by cameras connected by fibre optics to a control centre and to the local police. This secure environment, between sea and mountains, offers peace and privacy in an incomparable space.

With different types of housing, each villa adapts to the descending terrain, with large, green terraces that offer privacy and a private pool. Buying a villa here is an investment in quality of life: a home that offers security, comfort, energy efficiency and a full and peaceful living experience, without giving up entertainment and relaxation options.

This development is not just a collection of exclusive luxury homes; it is an invitation to a home where nature, peace and style come together. This dream of living on the Costa Blanca is a reality, and we invite you to discover it.
