Costa Blanca South, Torrevieja (Town)

Spacious apartment on San Pascual Street, in the heart of Torrevieja, designed for those who need real space without sacrificing the convenience of being in the city center. Four bedrooms and two bathrooms make this apartment a true family home, a place where everyone can have their own space, their own pace, and their own privacy, while also sharing moments in the common areas. Furnished and ready to move in, it's ideal for large families, those who work remotely and need several rooms, or those who frequently receive visitors and want to accommodate them comfortably. From the moment you enter the building and go up to the apartment, you'll feel that classic urban center apartment, with generous spaces and rooms that feel lived-in, designed to be enjoyed. Upon opening the door, you're greeted by an entrance hall that leads to the rest of the apartment and sets the tone: a home where there's room for everyone, from a large family to a couple who want to combine living and working from home. It's the kind of apartment that allows you to think long-term, about years of memories, gatherings, celebrations, and routines. The separate kitchen becomes one of the home's strongest features. Separated from the living room, it allows for peaceful cooking, keeping things tidy, and focusing on the ritual of eating without mixing smells and noises with the rest of the living area. It's easy to imagine daily life: early breakfasts for all family members, with cups, toast, and quick conversation; leisurely lunches, perhaps following a traditional recipe; impromptu dinners, where the aroma of a stew, pasta, or a baked dish fills the air. The kitchen is not just a functional space; it's the quiet heart of many everyday scenes: someone preparing a late-night coffee while the rest of the house is already resting, or a quiet moment of conversation between two people while everyone else is in their rooms. The living-dining room is the true social hub of the apartment. Everyone gathers here: it's the space for watching a movie as a family, celebrating birthdays, setting a large table for special occasions, welcoming friends for the day, or relaxing after a day at the beach or at work. It's easy to imagine a spacious sofa, a generous dining table, a TV area, and a reading nook with a comfortable armchair. This layout allows for many configurations: from a more formal space to a more relaxed one, always with the idea that it's the place where the best conversations and moments are shared. The four bedrooms offer a flexibility that few homes provide. The master bedroom can become a true personal sanctuary, a spacious area for deep rest, decorated with soft tones, pleasant textiles, and details that invite you to disconnect. The other three bedrooms can cover practically any need: rooms for children with their desks and belongings, rooms for guests who come from out of town to spend a few days on the coast, or even rooms dedicated to remote work, a home gym, a playroom, or a study. In a city like Torrevieja, where many combine work and leisure time, having so many rooms opens up a huge range of possibilities. The two bathrooms distributed throughout the home make daily life much smoother. In a large family, having two separate bathrooms prevents endless waits in the morning and reduces stress during peak hours. Everyone can organize themselves at their own pace: early showers, personal care routines, getting ready to go out—everything becomes simpler. At night, these spaces become places to disconnect: a bit of hot water before bed, a moment of silence when the rest of the house is quiet.
